

Kingmusic Kids! “Music Play” for Little People has been using its “sing and play” approach in early childhood music education since 1998. “Music play” has an important role in the early musical experience for babies and young children, as it teaches them individuality and creativity. Music development through songs, play and movement is a process and takes time to acquire. Continued exposure to our “sing and play” approach over time will help your child’s music abilities to progress naturally.

At Kingmusic Kids!, children are shown how to play with sound just as they can play with clay, paint or sand. “Music Play” activities are chosen that reinforce the idea that children can sing, dance and invent with sound just as they can invent with words or blocks. Whether your child beats on the drum to “Big Bear,” sings with the class during “Come to the Farm,” or uses creativity to write lyrics to a song, they will be stimulating their brain through active musical participation.

The eight-week long sessions are divided into age categories from six months through six years and range in length from 30 to 45 minutes each. Classes meet one time weekly and are focused on bringing musical activities into the daily routines of babies and children.

Our Director, Leigh Ann Turro, received her degree in music therapy from Illinois State University. She has been teaching and developing our classes since 1999. Miss Leigh Ann also personally trains our other “Music Play” for Little People teachers.

Aside from improving your child’s love of music, our program has the potential to develop and encourage the following:

- (1) gross & fine motor skills
- (2) expressive & receptive language skills
- (3) imagination & self-expression
- (4) following directions & turn-taking
- (5) pre-academic skills
- (6) social interaction with peers
- (7) confidence & self-esteem
- (8) structure in organized activities
- (9) body awareness
- (10) coordination & motivation to exercise

Let your child’s creativity and development soar by enrolling in our “Music Play” for Little People classes today! Our “sing and play” songs and activities will provide memories that you and your child will treasure for a lifetime!

“If you’re happy and you know it, sing a song.”

Baby Play, Baby Sing! 6-12 months

Singing, movement and simple rhythm instruments will be utilized while you and your baby enjoy the rhythm-based songs, chants and massages used during this entertaining class. Parents will assist and partake in the activities with infants in order to learn the songs and “sing & play” your babies’ favorites at home. Babies will also enjoy the lap rhymes, circle games and puppet animals that are incorporated into this stimulating class, developed to encourage rhythm, expressive language, early motor skills and parent/child bonding.

Class Length: 30 minutes

Tunes for Tots! 1&2s and 2&3s

You and your toddler will “sing and play” with songs involving movement, voice, and rhythm instruments. Parents will assist children and partake in activities lead by the teacher. Young children will enjoy the creative songs involving stories, games and props, developed to encourage rhythm, expressive language, motor skills, vocal skills, following directions, early academics and socialization.

Class Length: 1&2s – 30 min.; 2&3s – 40 min.

Tunes for Tots!

3&4s

Your preschooler will “sing and play” in a structured music class using songs, movement and many different rhythm instruments. Children will begin to learn more about instrument sounds, creative play, story songs, activities involving multiple instruments and participation as a group. Activities for this class were developed and chosen to encourage listening skills, expressive language, vocal skills, motor planning, rhythm and basic beat, early academics, socialization, turn-taking, self-confidence and imagination. Parents may view this class from inside the music room; however, we do encourage the children to become more independent at this age and participate with the other children and the teacher as a group. Students who have a difficult time adjusting to the group circle may have their parents sit with them until they are comfortable to participate on their own.

Class Length: 40 minutes

Discovering the Music In Me! 5-6 yrs.

Your child will “sing and play” while participating in age-specific activities involving a variety of rhythm instruments, movement, singing, music theory, and creative songwriting. Children will gain advanced knowledge of rhythm instruments and their sounds, learn early songwriting skills, be encouraged to display independence in their singing or instrument choices and be introduced to activities involving motor planning, stories and academics. Individuality will be encouraged as well as teamwork when appropriate.

Class Length: 45 minutes

Parents & children love Kingmusic Kids!

Here is what they have to say:

"Our experience with Kingmusic Kids was truly a memorable one that our family will treasure for years to come. Our daughter, Riley, began at eight months old and continued until she was five. The classes not only provided her with a musical foundation that she will have for the rest of her life, but also allowed her to socially interact with other children. Today, at age 7, she is interested in guitar lessons and loves to sing!"

Dave & Marybeth Baron, parents of Riley (7)

"Having our daughter, Gabrielle, and our son, Grant, involved in Kingmusic Kids over the past 5 years has helped build their self-confidence and their love for music. We think Kingmusic and Miss Leigh Ann are great!"

Steve & Stacie Goytia, parents of Gabrielle (6) and Grant (4)

"Kingmusic Kids has been such a great experience for our children! They enjoy the fun, interactive songs and we appreciate the enthusiasm that Miss Leigh Ann brings to every class."

Teresa & Andy Cotter, parents of Anna (5), Jillian (3), and A.J. (7 months)

"Our boys love to dance, sing and play with instruments and the Kingmusic program helped to develop their interest and enjoyment in all of these areas. It also helped me as a Mom bring music into their daily life by giving me ideas in replicating the songs at home."

Nikki & Mike O'Brien, parents of Patrick (4) and Eamon (1)

"Our kids love the program! Since they have started, we have noticed they are much more interactive with music on a daily basis. Miss Leigh Ann has a special gift to individually connect with each child and bring the music to life. Gavin, one year, dances in tempo now. We would suggest it to all parents. Kingmusic Kids! is very special – like nothing we've seen before!"

Bridget & Steve Grey, parents of Christian (3) and Gavin (1)
